Hambourg, May 30.

LETTERS from Husum of the 25th tell us, that the Swedes were continuing to retire out of Tonningen, and that they would all be marched out the 26th: That they had wrought hard to level the Approaches before that Place: That the Regiment of Horse of Melin in the Swedish Service, raised in the Country of Bremen, arriving at Husum; had refused absolutely to march any further, being determined not to be transported to Sweden, and even offering to serve his Danish Majesty. 'Tis believed all the Germans will desert rather than go to Sweden. The Muscovite Troops were to begin to march in three Days. The Resident of the Czar here, is gone to Prince Menzikoff to offer him a considerable Present on the part of this City, provided he will desist from the demand he has made of 100000 Crowns. The Saxons are likewise preparing to march. The Baron de Gortz of Gottorp, who went to Oldenbworth with a Passport, is coming back hither much dissatisfied, the King of Denmark having signified that he will keep Possession of the two Dutchies of Holstein till the War of the North end. Some are of Opinion that he will endeavour to make himself Master of Tonningen by Blockade. 'Tis said the Enterprize against the Island of Rugen is resolved on, in hopes that Island once taken, Stralsund will fall of it self; so there seems to be no further Thought of besieging Wismar. Count Steinbock is extremely dejected, 'twas extreme Want compelled him to yield. His Army is more numerous than appeared by the common Lists, making in all 10500 Men. The Prisoners are distributed into divers Places of Jutland and of the Duchy of Sleswick, till their Imbarkation. We daily expect here M. de Bernestoff, Chamberlain of the Elector of Hanover, who has Orders ('tis said) to employ his Master's good Offices with Prince Menzikoff in favour of Hambourg, Lubeck, Lawenbourg, and Mecklenbourg.

Utrecht, May 30. Messieurs vander Dussen and Goslinga, two of the Deputies of the States-General at the Congress here, have acquainted some Ministers of the Empire, that they have received Order from their Principals to offer and to employ their good Offices, joyntly with the Plenipotentiaries of Great-Britain, for promoting Peace between the Emperour and Empire and France. But the German Ministers observing that those Offices tended only to perswade them to accept the mean Conditions offered by France, they civilly declined them; protesting at the same time that 'tis not in a Bravado or through Presumption, but merely out of Necessity that the Empire has determined to continue the War, to defend their Liberty and Honour against the shameful Oppression preparing for them; and that if they fall, 'twill be their Consolation to have nothing to reproach themselves with, and that the World cannot lay to their Charge either Stupidity or Meanness of Spirit. 'Tis the Talk at present, that France will not evacuate Luxembourg to the States, till their High Mightinesses put the King of Prussia into full Possession of all that is yielded to him by the Peace in Gelderland, and particularly of the Bailliage of Kriekenbeck and the Country of Kessel which the Dutch have now in their Hands, and for which they demand in Exchange the Bailliage of Erkelens, which is dependent on Gelderland, and which the said King is obliged to deliver up to the Emperour. Some imagine that France will keep Luxembourg till the Conclusion of the Peace with the Emperour and Empire, thereby to engage Holland to interest themselves therein with the more Warmth. Letters from Vienna of the 17th say it was not yet certain that the Emperour will come to Francfort. Letters from Berlin of the 20th and 23d of May advise, that Count Donhoff will shortly be recalled from the Congress here, and that M. de Viereck, Gentleman of the Bed-Chamber to his Prussian Majesty, will take up his Residence here while the Congress remains on any Foot: They add, that M. Marechal de Bieberstein would be ordered anew to go over to the Court of England; that new Levies are continued in the Dominions of his Prussian Majesty, who persists in his Resolution to have 50000 Men constantly: Count Schonborn, the Emperour's Minister, having finished his Negotiation at the Court of Berlin, was on his Departure from thence: The King had made him a Present of a Set of fine Coach-Horses. Notwithstanding the Report spread here, that the Plenipotentiaries of France after the Departure of the Imperial Ministers from hence, would be going likewise in the beginning of June, and that they had actually received Passports from the States for the Security of their Baggage, they now give out that they will continue here during the Month of June, and probably they may prolong their Stay, having hired their Houses anew for three Months.

Hague,

Hague, June 3. We have received Advice by an Express, that the 29th of last Month both the Castle and Town of Namur were evacuated to the States-General, with all the Fortifications and Dependences. The French Commandant did at first insist upon some Prerogatives for the Elector of Bavaria's Governour, and that some Troops of the Elector of Cologne, should remain in the Castle till further Order; but he desisted at last, the Dutch Commissaries insisting on the clear Execution of what had been stipulated. We are now expecting to hear of the Evacuation of the other Places, and reckon even that Luxembourg will be put into our Hands the 5th Instant, the States having offered to deliver up to the King of Prussia the Baillages of Kessel and Kriekenberg, which belong to the Duchy of Gelderland, in Exchange for which they expect his Prussian Majesty should put them into Possession of the Baillage of Erkelens. The Plenipotentiaries of France pretend, that they expect some new Declaration on the Part of the Emperour and Empire, which may give them an Occasion to make Propositions yet more favourable: This shews that they are unwilling to break up the Congress at Utrecht, but would keep it up on any Foot, that they may make use of it as Incidents and Events may give them Opportunity. Letters from Berlin of the 27th past tell us, that Count Schonborn received the Day before a Courier from Vienna, with very pressing Letters for the King of Prussia, and that he waited for the final Resolution of that Court thereupon.

R. Stoughton, M. D. late Apothecary in South-wark, of almost 35 Years Practice, Author of the great Cordial Elixir, now famous throughout most Parts of the World, having left off his Apothecary's Trade to his Son, and for the better accommodating Merchants, Captains of Ships, &c. who send or take with them great Quantities abroad, is Removed into Bartholomew-lane near the Royal-Exchange, London, where it is now only prepared; he having Her Majesty's most gracious Letters Patents for the Sole making thereof. The Virtues and Effects of which are so well known that I need not mention them here, and would be too long, but I refer to the Bills with it, being in French and Dutch as well as English. New Travel long Journeys, or go to Sea without it, is powerfully preserving from infectious Air or contagious Diseases, &c. Keeping the Body in a due State of Health and Vigour. 'Tis the most delightful Bitter in the World taken in Wine, Tea, Beer, Ale, &c. as the Bills direct. Sold at some one Place in most Cities and great Towns in Europe, at 2 s. a Bottle, Wholesale at his own House cheaper. Where-ever you buy it, pray ask for it by the Name of Stoughton's, or (now) Dr. Stoughton's great Cordial Elixir, and let them warrant it to be so, for I fear in some Places 'tis Counterfeited: I am jealous one near the Change Gate does, wherefore I have Removed it from her, and desire those who come or send to Change would have it from my own House, that they may be sure of the Right. I am just now informed by 3 Country Practitioners, that great Numbers have been cured of Agues with this Elixir only, at twice or thrice taking, as the Bills order it to be.

Famous Drops for Hypochondriack Melancholly:

Which effectually cure on the Spot, by rectifying the Stomach and Blood, cleansing them from all Impurities, and giving a new Turn to their Ferment, attenuating all viscous tenacious Humours (which make the Head heavy, clog the Spirits, confuse the Mind, and cause the deepest Melancholly, with direful Views and black Reflections) comforting the Brain and Nerves, composing the hurried Thoughts and introducing bright lively Ideas and pleasant Briskness, instead of dismal Apprehensions and dark Incumbrance of the Soul, setting the Intellectuals at Liberty to act with Courage, Serenity and steady Cheerfulness, and causing a visible diffusive Joy to reign in the Room of uneasy Doubts, Fears, &c. for which they may be truly esteem'd infallible. Price 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions. Sold only at Mr. Ball's Bookfeller at the Cross-Keys and Bible in Cornhill near the Royal-Exchange.

The Delightful Chymical Liquor, for the Breath,

Teeth, and Gums. Which in a Moment makes the most Nauseous Breath smell delicately Pleasant and charming, and in very little time infallibly cures, so that an offensive Breath will not return; it certainly makes the blackest and most foul Teeth perfectly White, clean and beautiful to a Miracle; Cures the Scurvy in the Gums, tho' never so inveterate, making the Flesh grow again, when almost Eaten away, and infallibly restores loose Teeth to Admiration, even in Old People, who too often falsely think their Age to be the Occasion: In short, for delightfully Persuading, and quickly curing an ill-scented Breath, for presently making the blackest Teeth most excellently White, certainly softening them when Loose, effectually preserving them from Rotting or Decaying, and assuredly curing the Scurvy in the Gums, it has not its Equal in the Universe, as Abundance of the Nobility and Gentry throughout the Kingdom have experienced. Is Sold at Mr. Poy's a Toy-Shop at the Angel and Crown in St. Paul's Church-Yard, near Cheap-side at 2 s. 6 d. a Bottle with Directions.

A Short and Infallible Cure for the Itch, or any itching Humour, or Scorbatick Breaking out whatsoever, tho' it be never so bad, or of never so long standing; by a Specifick Elixary, particularly adapted for that Purpose, and many Years experienced: It's the most wonderful secret in the World for the Cure of that troublesome Distemper and the Scurvy: For in 2 or 3 Times taking, it certainly cleanses and refines the Blood and Juices, to Admiration, frees them from all Manner of Impurities, and absolutely strikes at the very Root of the Itch, or other Scorbatick Breakings out, so as infallibly to accomplish a Cure in Two or Three Days, to a Miracle, and that with the greatest Ease and Safety imaginable, without the least Trouble or Confinement. Is sold only by Mrs. Bradbury at the Golden Ball in the Faubury against Sacks Market, at 3 s. a Box, with printed Directions.
